| Loan on mortgage of freehold property | 8,000  | Loose tools                 | 4,000  |
| Sarat's capital                       | 25,000 | Patterns and models         | 3,000  |
| Sisir's capital                       | 20,000 | Stock-in-trade              | 20,000 |
|                                       |        | Sundry debtors              | 13,000 |
|                                       |        | Bills receivable            | 3,500  |
|                                       |        | Cash                        | 1,500  |
|                                       | 72,000 |                             | 72,000 |

Profits and losses were shared in the proportion of Sarat two-third and Sisir one-third.

Sisir agreed to take over the business on the following terms:

The freehold land and buildings were to be taken over by Sarat at the amount stated in the balance sheet, subject to mortgage. Sisir was to rent the premises on a repairing lease at Rs 800 per annum.

Revaluations were to be made which resulted as follows:

Plant and machinery Rs 12,000; Loose tools Rs 4,500; Patterns and models Rs 2,600; Stock-in-trade Rs 16,000.

Besides, the goodwill was valued at Rs 6,000.

Sarat agreed to allow the amount due to him (less Rs 500 which was to be paid to him in cash) to remain as loan to Sisir at 6 per cent interest.

Make out Sisir's balance sheet after the transactions have been completed.

[Ans: Sarat's Loan A/c Rs 19,900. Balance of Sisir's capital Rs 19,700. Balance sheet total Rs 58,600 (raising Goodwill A/c).

27. The following balance sheet shows the position of Red & Co. as on 31st December, 2018:

| Liabilities       | Rs       | Assets             | Rs       |
|-------------------|----------|--------------------|----------|
| Capital accounts: |          | Goodwill           | 16,000   |
| Red               | 48,000   | Plant and fixtures | 54,000   |
| White             | 36,000   | Stock              | 20,772   |

| Creditors         | 26,168   | Cash               | 2,476    |
|                   | 1,22,168 |                    | 1,22,168 |

Profits are being shared between Red, White and Green in the ratio of 3:2:1. White retired on 1st January, 2019, for the purpose of entering into a separate partnership with another trader. Red and Green remained in partnership, retaining all the assets at the values shown in the above balance sheet, except that goodwill was agreed to be valued at Rs 12,000 only and plant and fixtures at Rs 52,000. Under the old partnership agreement any partner retiring otherwise than by death bound himself to pay to the remaining partners a fine equal to half his share of the goodwill (they divide this in their profit sharing proportion) and to leave the balance of his capital account as a loan to the firm, to be paid off at the firms option at any time up to three years, either one sum or by instalments.

Set out the accounts showing the above transactions and a balance sheet showing the position immediately after White's withdrawal, assuming Green has brought in an additional Rs 12,000 capital, of which Rs 8,000 has been paid over to White.

[Ans: Loss on revaluation Rs 6,000 (including goodwill). Balance of Capital A/cs: Red Rs 46,500, Green Rs 23,500. Balance sheet total Rs 1,20,168. Transfer to White's Loan A/c Rs 24,000, Find Rs 2,000 to be debited to White and credited to Red and Green in the ratio of 3:1]

28. Anwar, Barat and Chacko were in partnership sharing profits and losses in the ratio of 5:3:2 respectively. The firm's draft summarised balance sheet at 31st March, 2019 was as follows:

| Liabilities       | Rs       | Assets                         | Rs       |
|-------------------|----------|--------------------------------|----------|
| Capital accounts: |          | Freehold buildings             | 45,000   |
| Anwar             | 55,000   | Office furniture and equipment | 16,000   |
| Barat             | 38,000   | Motor vehicles                 | 8,000    |
| Chacko            | 15,000   | Stock                          | 30,000   |
| Loan: Anwar       | 12,000   | Debtors less provision         | 32,000   |
| Sundry creditors  | 25,000   | Bank                           | 14,000   |
|                   | 1,45,000 |                                | 1,45,000 |

At this date of the above balance sheet, Anwar decided to leave partnership and Barat and Chacko agreed to continue, sharing profits in the ratio of 2:1 respectively.

Before Anwar left the partnership it was agreed between the three partners that the following adjustments should be made to the draft balance sheet:

- The value of freehold buildings should be increased to Rs 61,000 and the value of office furniture and equipment should be reduced by Rs 1,500.
- A reduction of Rs 3,000 should be made in the value of stock and the provision for bad debts should be increased by Rs 1,500.
- Both bank and creditors should be reduced to allow for a settlement of Rs 10,000 with main supplier upon which the partnership had received a discount of 5%. Although this payment was made on 30th March, 2019 it was not entered in the books until 1st April, 2019.

It was also agreed that Anwar would take a motor vehicle at its book value of Rs 3,000 and office furniture and equipment at its revalued amount of Rs 5,000. Total goodwill was valued at Rs 1,00,000 and of this it was agreed that Rs 25,000 would be taken over by Anwar through the transfer to him personally of certain partnership customers. Barat and Chacko agreed that goodwill would not appear as an asset in the books of the new partnership.

The continuing partners were unable to pay the amount owing to Anwar immediately. So it was agreed that this would be transferred to his loan account.

Required:

- (i) Prepare the revaluation account of the partnership.
- (ii) Prepare the partners' capital accounts (of both the old and new firm) in columnar form.
- (iii) Prepare the opening balance sheet of the new firm.

[Ans: Profit on revaluation Rs 10,000. Balance of Capital A/cs: Barat Rs 21,000, Chacko Rs 12,000. Balance of Anwar's Loan A/c Rs 89,000. Balance Sheet total Rs 1,37,000]

Note: Depreciation on building: 5% on Rs (2,72,000 - 2,00,000) = Rs 3,600

9. From the following information you are required to show the approximate net profit of three departments, X, Y and Z of a departmental store for the three months ended 31st March, 2020:

|                                      | XRs | YRs | ZRs |
|--------------------------------------|---------|---------|---------|
| Stock on 1 st January     | 23,000  | 18,000  | 10,000  |
| Purchases for the three months       | 72,000  | 46,000  | 24,000  |
| Cash sales for the three months      | 60,000  | 70,000  | 20,000  |
| Credit sales for the three months    | 40,000  | 10,000  | 30,000  |
| Direct expenses for the three months | 19,400  | 23,000  | 18,700  |

The indirect expenses of the whole store for the three months were Rs 39,500 on total store sales (cash and credit) of Rs 7,90,000. These expenses are allocated in proportion to the total sales of each department.

Stock was not taken on 31st March, 2020, but the usual rates of gross profit (sales minus purchase cost of goods sold) for the three departments are:

|   |              |
|---|--------------|
| X | 30% on sales |
| Y | 40% on sales |
| Z | 50% on sales |

Provision for bad debts is to be made at the rate of 1% on the credit sales of each department.

Ans: Gross profit: X Rs 30,000; Y Rs 32,000; Z Rs 25,000; Closing stock: X Rs 25,000; Y Rs 16,000; Z Rs 9,000. Net profit: X Rs 5,200; Y Rs 4,900; Z Rs 3,500.

Note: Since gross profit is calculated here on the basis of sales minus purchase cost of goods sold, direct expenses will be debited to profit and loss account.

10. A businessman wishes to ascertain the separate net profits of two departments X and Y for the six months ending 30th June, 2020. It is not practicable to take stock on that date. However, the rates of gross profit (calculated without reference to direct expenses) are determined at 40% and 30% on sales at the two departments respectively. There are in all six departments. Indirect expenses are to be charged in proportion to departmental sales except as to one-third, which is to be divided equally. The following figures are extracted from the books for the period ended 30th June, 2020:

|                 | XRs  | YRs  |
|-----------------|----------|----------|
| Stock (1.1.20)  | 30,000   | 28,000   |
| Sales           | 1,40,000 | 1,20,000 |
| Purchases       | 90,000   | 72,000   |
| Direct expenses | 18,300   | 28,400   |

Indirect expenses of all six departments were Rs 36,000. The sales of other departments were Rs 1,40,000.

Prepare a columnar trading and profit and loss account for the period ending 30th June, 2020, making stock reserve for each department at 7% on estimated value of stock on 30th June, 2020.

Ans: Gross profit: X Rs 56,000; Y Rs 36,000; Closing stock: X Rs 36,000; Y Rs 16,000; Share of indirect expenses: X Rs 14,400; Y Rs 13,200 . Net profit (loss): X Rs 20,780; Y (Rs 4,6,720)

Note: Since gross profit is calculated here without reference to direct expenses, direct expenses will be debited to profit and loss account.

11. On 1st January, 2019, the balance sheet of Parikh, who runs a departmental store, was as follows:

| Liabilities              | Rs     | Assets              | Rs           |
|--------------------------|--------|---------------------|--------------|
| Sundry creditors         | 10,200 | Cash in hand        | 950          |
| Parikh's capital account | 37,500 | Cash at bank        | 4,250        |
|                          |        | Sundry debtors      | 12,500       |
|                          |        | Stock-in-trade:     |              |
|                          |        | A                   | 5,000        |
|                          |        | B                   | 6,000        |
|                          |        | C                   | 2,500 |
|                          |        | Plant and machinery | 16,500       |
|                          | 47,700 |                     | 47,700       |

From the following information and instructions, make out a trading and profit and loss account showing the estimated net profits of the three departments for the interim period of six months ending 30th June, 2019 and also a balance sheet as on that date based on the estimated net profit.

A stock reserve of 10% on the estimated value of stock as on 30th June, 2019 is to be made before arriving at the estimated net profits of the departments concerned:

|                          | A      | B      | C     |
|--------------------------|--------|--------|-------|
|                          | Rs     | Rs     | Rs    |
| Direct expenses          | 2,000  | 1,250  | 650   |
| Sales for the period     | 12,500 | 10,000 | 5,000 |
| Purchases for the period | 6,000  | 5,000  | 4,000 |

It was not possible for the management to take stock, but the normal rates of gross profit for the departments concerned were 40%, 30% and 20% respectively on sales. The indirect expenses amounted to Rs 1,350 which is to be distributed in the ratio of amount of gross profit earned and depreciation on plant and machinery @ 10% p.a. to be apportioned on the basis of turnover.

The debtors on 30th June, 2019, amount to Rs 7,500 and creditors to Rs 2,500, while cash in hand is Rs 750 and cash at bank is Rs 7,500, plant and machinery remains as it was. He had drawn Rs 1,500 during the period for his personal expenses.

Ans: Gross Profit: A Rs 5,000; B Rs 3,000; C Rs 1,000. Closing stock: A Rs 5,500; B Rs 5,250; C Rs 3,150. Net profit: A Rs 3,325; B Rs 1,725; C Rs 385. Balance sheet total Rs 43,935.

Note: Direct expenses will be debited to trading account here, this being the normal treatment.

12. M. L. Baig commenced trading on 1st April, 2019 as Baig Stores – retail stationers and confectioners, with an initial capital of Rs 6,000 which was utilised in the opening of a business bank account.

All receipts and payments are passed through the bank account. The following is a summary of the items credited in the business cash book during the year ended 31st March, 2020:

|   | Rs       |
|---|----------|
| Purchase of fixtures and fittings:  |          |
| Stationery department   | 5,200    |
| Confectionery department  | 3,000    |
| Staff wages:  |          |
| Stationery department   | 4,400    |
| Confectionery department  | 3,080    |
| Rent for the period 1 st April, 2019 to 30 th April, 2020 | 2,600    |
| Rates for the year ended 31 st March, 2020                           | 1,140    |
| Electricity   | 740      |
| Advertising   | 2,200    |
| Payment to suppliers  | 1,07,110 |
| Drawings  | 10,000   |
| The purchases during the year under review were:                         |          |
| Stationery department   | 52,000   |
| Confectionery department  | 58,500   |

The above purchases do not include goods costing Rs 1,000 bought by the business and then taken over Mr. Baig for his own domestic use. The figure of Rs 1,000 is included in payment to suppliers.

The gross profit in the stationery department is at the rate of 20 per cent on sales, whilst in the confectionery department it is 25 per cent on sales. In both departments, sales each month are always at a uniform level. The policy of Mr. Baig is to have month-end-stock in each department just sufficient for the following month's sales. The prices of all goods bought by Baig Stores have not changed since the business began.

The total debtors at 31st March, 2020, amounted to Rs 18,000.

In August, 2019 Mr. Baig and his sister, Mrs. Hasina, benefited from legacies from their late mother's estate of Rs 10,000 and Rs 8,000 respectively. Both legacies were paid into the bank account of Baig Stores. Mrs. Hasina has agreed that her legacy should be an interest free loan to the business.

At 31st March, 2020, electricity charges accrued due amounted to Rs 220.

Mr. Baig has decided that, expenses not incurred by a specific department should be apportioned to the departments as follows:

|                |                                  |
|----------------|----------------------------------|
| Rent and rates | according to floor area occupied |
| Electricity    | according to consumption         |
| Advertising    | according to turnover            |

Two-thirds of the business floor space is occupied by the stationery department, whilst three-quarters of the electricity is consumed by that department. All the floor space of the business is allocated to departments.

It has been decided that depreciation on fixtures and fittings should be provided at the rate of 10 per cent on the cost of assets held at the year-end.

You are required to produce:

- (a) A trading and profit and loss account for the year ended 31st March, 2020 for
 (i) The stationery department, and
 (ii) The confectionery department
 (b) A balance sheet as at 31st March, 2020.

Ans: Gross Profit: Stationery Rs 12,000; Confectionery Rs 18,000. Net profit: Stationery Rs 3,000; Confectionery Rs 12,000. Balance sheet total Rs 34,080. Sales: Stationery Rs 60,000; Confectionery Rs 72,000. Closing stock (1/13th of purchase) Rs 4,000 and Rs 4,500. Creditors Rs 4,400. Bank balance Rs 1,460.
